

Job Description

Post Title: Mosaic Cleaner

Reports to: Curator of Archaeology

Job outline:

- To ensure the cleanliness of Fishbourne Roman Palace's unique and extensive collection of in-situ Roman mosaics.
- To follow established protocols developed to keep the mosaics safe and to ensure their longevity as well as maximize their physical appearance.
- To document cleaning activities as required.
- To communicate effectively with team members, flagging any issues or concerns and to report on progress.
- To undertake any other duties reasonably required.

Hours: 3.5 hours per week, flexible (by agreement)

Contract: Casual

Work location: Fishbourne Roman Palace

Selection Criteria	Essential/Desirable
A careful and methodical approach to the work	Essential
Ability and willingness to follow instructions accurately	Essential
Ability to work unsupervised	Essential
Good communication skills within the team and with the visiting public	Essential
An interest in archaeology, especially Roman archaeology.	Desirable

Please note: The work requires long periods of kneeling (appropriate PPE will be supplied), climbing over barriers and stepping up and down significant distances to and from the archaeological layers.

No Experience is necessary. Full training will be provided.

February 2026